NO VENEERED STRUCTURES

Such is Case if Ordinances are Rightly Read

WHERE FIRE LIMITS ARE

Territory Extends Over the Principal Business Section of Town

Tomorrow when council meets it is supposed that the ordinance committee will have an important report to make concerning the erection within the fire limits of brick veneered structures. At the last council meeting requests were made by various property holders in Charleroi to brick veneer wooden structures, and the matter was referred to the ordinance committee to report at an adjourned meeting called for Friday night.

Just what the ordinance committee will have to report is a question but if ordinances passed some years back are rightly construed the request to erect brick veneered structures in the fire limits may be refused. The ordinance requires that the sidewalls of all new structures erected within the fire limits be of stone, brick or other incombustible material. The fire limits cover territory between Third and Seventh streets west from the railroad as far as Cherry alley.

SOAP MIGHT WEAR OUT THE SIDEWALKS

Cleanser Banished by Order of Fayette City Council So 'Tis Said

Cleaning the sidewalks with soap and water has been officially declared a violation of the borough laws at Fayette City and a lively session of the borough council Tuesday night ended with David Pearce, who had been fined for throwing water in the street, declaring that he would appeal the case because the council sustained the burgess who had fined Pearce.

Pearce is a wealthy citizen. Health officers accused him of throwing soap suds on the sidewalk and although Pearce denied that there was soap in the water, he was fined $5. Many citizens interested in this new angle of the clean city day proposition talked in Pearce's behalf at the council meeting.

BUSINESS MEN WILL ARRANGE FOR OUTING

The regular meeting of the Business Men's association will be held tonight at the association rooms in the Kirk and Clark building, when important business is to be transacted. Reports will be made by committees in charge of the arrangements for the Business Men's outing to be held at Eldora Park on August 17.

Estate to Children
An estate valued at $1,000,000 is willed to the children of Joseph R. Stauffer, millionaire resident of Scott, Pa.

Boy Falls From Top of Big Tree

After falling from an apple tree yesterday John Needemauer the 10 year-old son of Adam Needemauer of Gallatin, is lying in a critical condition at the point of death.

Young Needemauer and some other boys were racing to see who could get up an apple tree the quickest. Needemauer was the first and climbed to the topmost branches. Looking down at the other boys he started to laugh at them for being so slow when his foot slipped and he came tumbling down, alighting on his head. He is suffering from concussion of the brain. Dr. J. G. Warner was called.

TEACHERS WILL BE AFFECTED BY SCHOOL CODE

Changes Will be Made in Manner of Securing Certificates

FIVE YEARS AS A LIMIT

The new proposed school code which will be placed before the legislature next January will not only affect the school children and directors, but the teachers also come in the scope of the commission's work.

Under the new ruling all teachers who have taught five years or more provisional certificates will be required to continue their work. At the present time there are teachers in Washington county who have taught for the past 28 years, each year renewing their eligibility by taking the county superintendent's provisional examination.

Five years is the limit placed upon provisional certificates after which two years is the limit on professional credentials instead of three as is the present rule. Permanent examinations must be passed after teaching seven years in the public schools of Pennsylvania, according to the provisions of the new code, or the teacher will not be allowed to hold an instructor's position.

FAMILIES REUNE AT ELDORA PARK

Sixty five members of the Wickerham, Grant and Sampson families were present at the fourth annual joint family reunion of the three clans at Eldora park yesterday. The dinner was served at one large table. Addresses were made by the Rev. J. T. Hacket, of Charleroi and Captain James B. Gibson of Monongahela.

Mononghela Board Approves Bond Issue

The Monongahela school board at a meeting last night passed a resolution authorizing the issuance of $15,000 worth of bonds, which were voted for at the June election. Bids from prospective purchasers will be received up until August 6th, at which time the board will meet to receive tenders.

BOROUGH MUST FIND PLACES FOR TEN ADDITIONAL PLUGS

Several Locations Where Fire Arrangements Could be Bettered--Committee Will Make Report

According to the contract signed last fall with the Charleroi Water company the borough agreed to place ten additional fire plugs in the borough and the fire water and light committee of council, consisting of Councilman W. R. Gaut, Dr. A. O. Davis and Oscar Linn it is understood will present a report to council on the matter tomorrow night recommending places where the fire plugs are needed. The committee with Fire Chief J. W. Fleming and Councilman C. O. Frye made a tour of the borough yesterday in the auto patrol wagon and made investigations.

The committee will in all probability make recommendations of at least seven places where plugs are most needed, and three locations will have to be decided upon later.

Locations where better fire accommodations are needed in Charleroi are at the corner of Seventh street and Fallowfield avenue, Third street and Fallowfield avenue, Crest avenue and Third street, Shady avenue and Seventh street, Prospect avenue and Ninth street, and Shady avenue and Eleventh street. It is thought that the committee will make recommendations of plugs to be set at these places, or in the nearby territory. Other places where plugs could well be located are First street and Fallowfield avenue, Bigthe Alley and Eighth street and Crest alley and Twelfth street.

WOMAN THE PRESIDENT

Miss Work in Article for Mail Speaks of Victory for Sex

Miss Etta M. Work principal of the Second street school, has prepared for the Mail an article concerning her recent trip to Boston where she attended the convention of the National Educational association. Miss Work during her absence visited many points of interest in and about Boston, including the numerous historical points where battles of the Revolution were fought. She also viewed the homes of noted literary men who are now dead, and visited the scenes which have been much written about by Longfellow and others of New England nativity. Not only in Boston and vicinity did Miss Work visit, but also in New York and Philadelphia in order that upon her return here she could add to the general interest of the studies of history and geography pursued in the schools by talks on her personal recollections of experiences met with and sights seen during the trip. The description of the National Educational Association convention follows, as prepared by Miss Work:

The National Educational association was in session during July 8. The opening exercises were appropriate on commemorating Independence day. This session was held in the great stadium of Harvard University, Cambridge, which seats 30,000 persons and which was well filled. The Governor of Massachusetts and the Mayor of Boston extended welcome to the vast multitude. Supt. Blair of Illinois responded to this greeting. Governor Kitchin of North Carolina brought his message from the southland. David Starr Jordan represented the far west and contributed many good ideas worthy of future thought, while a fitting climax was the address by President Taft. At night the display of fireworks from the Boston Common was witnessed by thousands in the near vicinity and along the Charles river.

The main sessions of the association were held in the Stadium of Tremont Temple. Fourteen departments of the association held daily meetings in different buildings centrally located. Among the most important subjects under discussion at the meeting during the week were training for vocation, moral and physical training in the public schools, and the education of crippled and defective children.

The culminating point in the convention was reached when Mrs. Ella Flagg Young superintendent of the public schools of Chicago was elected president of the association. When we take into consideration that fifty years ago a woman was not allowed to read her own article on education before the National Educational convention the election of Mrs. Young was a distinct triumph for the women—a victory "for right" as she terms it. Never before in the annals of the educational body had the regular slate of a nominating committee been rejected and a candidate elected

TO PURCHASE COAL TRACT

Coal Centre Man Begins Negotiations in West Virginia

James Henry and John Mildebrand are completing the optioning for Samuel Kent of Coal Centre of a tract of coal underlying about 1,000 acres, located on the west side of the Monongahela river and extending from a point just opposite the pump station at Morgantown to a point opposite Little Falls in West Virginia. The coal includes all veins under the Pittsburgh seam and the property is being optioned at $35 an acre. William Brand is now engaged in looking up the titles and having a survey made of the property.

Mr. Kent who intends purchasing the plot already owns a tract of 1,200 acres near Little Falls, so the two tracts will adjoin.

CYCLONE CARRIES OFF BIG HAYSTACK

Provender Carried Miles to be Deposited on Neighboring Farms

When a small cyclone passed over the farm of William McConnell near Independence yesterday it lifted a large hay stack from the farm and with the rails which had been used to anchor the top of the stack carried it into the air to the height of 200 feet or more and then transported to the adjoining farm nearly a quarter of a mile away. A large sycamore tree was in the path of the wind and it was twisted about like a weed. Part of the hay from the stack was picked up and whirled into the air, part of it going almost beyond the vision of the eye. A small part of the stack containing the rails was carried about 50 feet into the air and dropped about 200 feet away. The balance of the hay went whirling upwards and onward.

Will Give Dance

from the floor, and while we do not all approve of woman's organization yet when you consider the traditional view that women cannot successfully compete with men in the intellectual world and consequently are refused equal pay for equal work the victory was revolutionary. Much of the credit belongs to Chicago which had the courage to place at the head of its schools a woman well qualified for the position.

Etta M. Work.

Auto Patrol Put to Work

Guided by Chief Albright Machine Makes First Official Haul

The new automobile patrol wagon recently purchased from Pittsburgh was put to work yesterday and the first prisoner to get a ride in it was M. Lee who was charged with drunkenness. Chief of Police C. W. Albright was the chauffeur. At a hearing last night Lee was discharged by Burgess Risbeck.

It is expected that within a short time work will be begun on the construction of a place to keep the machine. Chief Albright this morning stated that arrangements would be made for storing the wagon at the rear of the lockup.

CHARLEROI MAN TO HAVE CHARGE OF MUSICAL PART

Welsh People Will Hold Picnic at Kennywood Park Saturday

GOOD PROGRAM ARRANGED

The annual outing of the Welsh people of Allegheny county at Kennywood park Saturday which will be attended by Welsh people from the principal towns and cities of Western Pennsylvania and Ohio, is being much looked forward to by the race in this valley. A program of sports, and a musical program has been arranged. Prof. I. T. Daniel of Charleroi to be in charge of the latter. Prof. Daniel will have charge of a mass chorus of 300 voices, and excellent renditions of favorite national anthems and Welsh hymns are assured. Madame Dora Davies-Williams, the famed Welsh soprano will contribute two numbers to the program. Mrs. Daniel the well known soprano of Charleroi, as well as a number of Pittsburgh vocalists will be heard in popular Welsh airs.

The exercises will conclude with a challenge solo competition open to all comers. As each contest is permitted to sing his favorite song, a desired variety is added to the program. A magnificent trophy will be awarded to the winner.

Noted Sportsman to Visit Brownsville

Brownsville is to have one of the greatest treats of the sporting world next Monday afternoon, when C. G. Spencer, champion target shooter of the world, will give an exhibition at the local taps. The followers of the sport in the surrounding towns are invited to attend. Charles G. Spencer of St. Louis, Mo., the present holder of the World's Championship at targets may be termed "the man who came back." Spencer, as a youth, under the guidance of his father, who was a noted rifle shot, took up the target shooting game and soon sprang into prominence.

R. C. Mountsier, E. F. Krahmer, J. E. Masters and F. W. Jones went to Pittsburgh today in the former's Jackson automobile to witness the aviation meet.

CITIZENS ARE ANGRY

Carrol Township Tax-payers After School Board

THREATEN COURT ACTION

Committee of Five Appointed to Look After Interests of Citizens

A fight is on between a number of the citizens of Carroll township who are mostly residents of West Monongahela and the school board there regarding school matters. A new building is needed and the school board proposes to sell a portion of the ground partly occupied by the present buildings, and purchase property elsewhere or a new structure. It seems this idea is anything but satisfactory to the citizens.

At a meeting held Tuesday night the citizens determined that if the board should make any move to sell the present site they would at once appeal to the Washington county courts for such action as would prevent the consummation of any such effort on the part of the school board. A committee of five citizens, composed of John Roodman, Edward Baker, Hugo Zeitz, Wm. Graham and James Stacher has wanted to attend all meetings of the school board and to advise the organization as to all actions taken by the directors. The committee of five was authorized to secure an attorney, if one was needed, and were assured that all the money necessary would be raised to take care of any court proceedings it might be deemed advisable to take.

COUNTY GROWING IN IMPORTANCE

Requires Nearly $15,000 a Day to Pay Running Expenses

That Washington county is growing in importance is evidenced by the fact that it requires nearly $15,000 a day to pay its running expenses says the Washington Observer. The total disbursements from January 1, 1910 to August 2, inclusive were $309,097.04 or an average of nearly $45,000 a month. July was a big month, the expenditures being nearly $53,000. This was due principally to bridge and road improvements.

In spite of the large drains on the county treasury there is a balance of $177,179.16 on hand with 22 tax collecting districts to hear from.

ELDORA IS CHOSEN FOR ANNUAL PICNIC

The Sunday school board of the Methodist Episcopal church at a meeting last night decided to hold the annual picnic and outing of the school at Eldora Park on Friday, August 12. The park management is providing tickets to the various amusements for the children, and will arrange the transportation.

The Tariff Commission

In spite of sneering remarks to the contrary, the proposed Tariff Commission may accomplish much good work, especially if it so conducts itself as to regain the confidence of the country says the Connellsville Courier.
While it is true, as has been stated, that Congress will continue to make the Tariffs and the question will not be left out of politics, the recommendations of such a commission of experts will doubtless carry much weight with the country as well as with the lawmakers and the later cannot afford to defy public sentiment.

While the proper Congressional committees have always had the benefit of expert disinterested advice in the preparation of their Tariff bills, the fact has not been generally known, and public sentiment has assumed that the bills have been drawn by politicians rather than by publicists; that they have been dictated by special interests rather than by statesmen; that they are designed for the benefit of the few rather than of the many.

As a general rule the reverse has been the case; and it may be added, the exceptions have been usually sincere but uniformly Democratic.

The Best Country

Except for a few discontented, who are by nature "agin" existing conditions and those who hope to step into political power by fomenting what they are pleased to term a "class struggle," it is admitted the world over that this country is by far the best independent government in the world, says the New Castle Herald.

People in other countries are taxed in most burdensome way without enjoying a tithe of the liberty we possess.
News dispatches from Berlin state that further tax is to be levied there.
At present residents are taxed in almost every conceivable manner, but the tax on amusements is a new one.
One wonders how European officials have managed to overlook it, since in many countries of that continent taxes are levied on the number of doors and windows in a dwelling.

Under the proposed new taxation idea in Berlin additional fees will be demanded for all theatrical performances, recitals, concerts, circuses,
balls, race meets and even church and charity bazaars. That is taxation with a vengeance.

In Europe it is proper to speak of
"classes," but they do not exist in this country in the same way.
People here may be "classed" according to their business or occupation, but there is no absolute line of demarcation over which any one who has the ability and energy may not step, if he has the desire. In Europe there are really hard and fast lines of caste distinction that possibly there prevent this to a great extent.

However, a youth who enters a store here as a clerk is one of the employed, but as soon as he starts a shoe himself and takes an assistant, he is in the employer class. A shoemaker's apprentice immediately becomes one of the employer class as soon as he starts in business for himself and needs an errand boy to deliver his shoes. And any man who possesses two dollars at once and the same time thereby becomes a member of the capitalist class.

Passing from one "class" to another is easy in this country. The corner grocer disposes of his stock and takes a position as a traveling salesman, as a bookkeeper or a clerk in another store at once transfers himself from the employing to the employed class, but his position in the community's regard does not change. That is definitely fixed by his own personality and acts.

There can be no "class struggle"
in a country where the lines of class are so loosely fixed, as here and those will fall who attempt to array against one another the individual members who in the aggregate make up the nation.

ELECTRIC SPARKS

The way some of the semi-weeklies, weeklies and other newspapers of the valley published a story of a child's body being found at California is indicative of the fact that this hot weather is too much for them—that the exertion to find out the real facts of the case consumes too much tissue.

The next step in the Belle Vernon bridge matter will be to find out just what the bridge company wants for the affair.

If some men were punished according to the cost they cause the country through their crimes, they would be hung on the spot.

Dr. Crippen's trouble might be constructed in some way to resemble Harry Thaws. The resemblance is that they both tried to escape the consequences of the law.

That Pesky Fly

Gird on your armor, noble man—Let "death to the enemy" be your battle cry;
For the food commission has placed a ban
Upon the pesky, buzzing little fly.

When a woman appeared on the streets of Chicago limping from the effects of hobble skirt tightness the other day an army of small boys tried to push her over, just to see if she could get up alone. She narrowly escaped being run down by a street car, and was finally picked up by a policeman and loaded into a push cart to be taken home.

The society girls among the native savages wear rings in their noses and ears, but they have nothing on our society girls who wear rings around the eyes.

When a man's wife invariably believes him he is usually the prince of liars.

The summer season is the only time of the year when the barefoot dancers really have any excuse for their part is severely let alone by them.

Isn't there some means, without resorting to violence, by which they can be choked off from giving excuses for Jeffries defeat. Heaven knows we are well satisfied now.

Busy Making Duplicates

The commissioners' clerks are now busy making duplicates of the triennial assessment for the guidance of the assessors in making their assessments. There are 74 assessors in the county and they will enter upon their duties by September 1.

Esther Heckle, 11 years old, of Monessen, was bitten by a dog supposed to be mad, while playing in Wylie avenue, at Pittsburgh yesterday.
Prompt treatment was extended and she will not likely experience any serious effects.

GOOD SOLID CLOUTING

If Diogenes with his lantern had happened onto the baseball lot last night in his continued search for an honest man, he would first have become shocked, then disgusted and then taken to his heels to escape the prospects of seeing the rest of the slaughter. Not that there weren't any honest men there, but that there will too many honest clouters.

The beginning of the catastrophe was in the first session. Then two hits, a wild pitch, an error and a base on balls were responsible for the Catholics scoring three runs. In the second inning they got one on two hits, and in the next tallied five runs on the same number of real bingles.
In the sixth inning a base on balls, an error a life, and two cracks, one for two pillows were instrumental in

WILD MAN MAKES HIS ANNUAL VISITATION

Beaver County Brave Ones Capture Him and Charge Him
With Plain Ugliness

Washington countians watch out for the wild man. The animal delusion made his summer visitation in Beaver county this week, and high scared some of the female residents to death.
But his doom has been sealed, for he and his bad looks have been captured and locked up. The only charge against the man is that he is ugly.
All the persons who have summed up enough nerve to concentrate their stares upon his wild features, say he acts rational enough.

Independents are Satisfied With Tener's Successor

The New Castle "News" says:
"Although it is a little early to make any positive statements, yet it can be said that the men who are recognized as the leaders in this congressional district in the political
just crystallized in the Keystone party, are satisfied with Mr. Matthews and it is believed that all of them who are Republicans and some who are Democrats will take off their coats, if necessary, this fall, for the New Castle Republican congressional nominee.

"There will be no Keystone party nominee in the Twenty-fourth congressional district if the leaders in the independent movement in this district can avoid it.

"In the case of Mr. Matthews the Independents are, so far as can be ascertained, thoroughly satisfied and if there is any activity among the Independents in this district it will be centered on the Democratic and the

VETERANS PLAN TO BE PRESENT AT DEDICATION

A large number of the surviving veterans of the celebrated 104th Pennsylvania regiment which was in most active service in the battle of Gettys-
completed plans for attending the dedication of the $150,000 state monument on the historic battlefield at noon on Tuesday, September 27, 1910.

The 10th regiment was recruited in Western Pennsylvania, two of the companies being formed in Washington county. This well known command which among all the regiments of the northern army stood third in the list of fatalities saw hard service at Gettysburg and during the two days' fight left many dead on the field of battle. Colonel Robert, the head of the command fell in the thickest of the fight.

All soldiers who were members of Pennsylvania regiments which took part in the battle of Gettysburg and are now residents of the state will be furnished free transportation to Gettysburg and return by making application to the Gettysburg Battlefield Memorial commission at Philadelphia and to all other persons wishing to attend a rate of one and one half cents per mile will be given, tickets good going from September 22 to 27 and for return until September 30

Dod Frightens

Residents on the hill section near Second street and along Washington avenue were somewhat excited today by the appearance of what they thought was a mad dog. The dog was one belonging to Charles Culler it is said, and the first notice was taken of it when he snapped at Peter Lee, the mail carrier on No. 3 route. The dog at the time was with a little boy, and was not frothing at the mouth.
The report spread that a mad dog was running at large and it is said that some dogs were bitten owned by people living on Washington avenue.
Lee had the wound which was nothing more than a scratch cauterized by Dr. J. K. Smith and anticipates no ill effects from it. He says that in his opinion the dog was not a victim of rabies as its condition was not such as to indicate that.

The Word "Wallop"

The origin of the familiar vernacular verb "to wallop" is not generally known. It comes from the family name of the earls of Portsmouth. Sir John Wallop, K. G., was admiral commander in the reign of King Henry VIII. of the fleet which avenged French raids by burning French ships and twenty-one French villages. This was called, in the current parlance of the times, "walloping" them, and the phrase passed into the language and still survives.

Conversion Topic.
"I would what would Mr. Bliggins to believe in reincarnation?"
"The fact," replied Miss Cayenne,
"that so few people know anything

Language of Switzerland.

It is a curious fact that the people most celebrated for love of country should in a manner be without a language—that is, a mother tongue. The Swiss have three official languages—
German, French and Italian. About three-fourths of the population of the mountain confederation speak German, while the remainder divide four other languages among them, chiefly French and Italian, these languages being found, as a rule, in districts in close proximity to the countries where in those languages are the principal tongues. In Switzerland documents and notices are printed in both the French and German languages. In the national assembly members deliver their speeches in either French or German, for nearly all members understand both tongues. The decrees and proclamations of the president are translated by an official interpreter and furnished to the press in both languages.—New York Press.

Her Fault.

The teacher in charge of the primary department at a school in West Philadelphia was talking the other day about her work and her pupils.

"They are dear youngsters," she said,
"but they sometimes make curious remarks. Several times I have had occasion to reprove a little boy who isn't bad, but who is very mischievous and annoying. He is always getting into trouble and making a disturbance.

"One day he had been more than usually uproarious, and I was very tired. Instead of scolding or punishing him I began in rather an exasperated tone to talk to him.

"Tom, I said, 'I'm afraid I'm never going to meet you in heaven.'
"He looked up with the most shocked face. 'Why, teacher, he said, 'isn't that just too bad? What have you

Going Round the World.

In sailing around the world eastward the days are each a little less than twenty-four hours, according to the speed of the ship, as the sun is met a little earlier every morning.
These little differences added together will amount to twenty-four hours.
This gives the sailors an extra day—not in imagination, but as an actual fact. They will have done an extra day's work, eaten an extra day's ration of food and inhaled an extra day's allowance of grog.

On the other hand, in sailing westward the sun is overtaken a little each day, and so each day is rather longer than twenty-four hours, and clocks and watches are found to be too fast.
This also will amount in sailing around the world to the point of departure to one whole day by which the reckoning has fallen in arrears. The eastern bound ship, then, has gained a day, and the western bound ship has lost one. This strange fact, clearly worked out, leads to the apparent paradox that the first named ship has a gain of two whole days over the latter, if we suppose them to have departed from port and returned together.—Philadelphia Record.

Modern Gold Mining.

Up until about 1850 only placer or surface gold was mined—that is, free gold, deposited in the beds of streams, in sands and in the crevices of rocks.
Placer mining, mainly in new and remote regions, still furnishes a material though not a large percentage of the world's output. Formerly the alluvial gold was separated from the sands and gravels containing it by washing them in pans, cradles, rockers and sluices. In 1852 the hydraulic method was first employed in California. By this means a "giant" stream of water turned against the side of a mountain
settles to the bottom of the tunnel or sluice through which the gravel, sand and water flow. In 1880 dredges or excavators were first used in Australia.
Today steam and electric dredges produce a considerable portion of the world's output.—Byron W. Holt in Everybody's.

Why Boiled Water Freezes Easily.

Water which is hot of course cannot freeze until it has parted with its heat, but water that has been boiled will,
other things being equal, freeze sooner than water which has not been boiled.
A slight disturbance of water disposes it to freeze more rapidly, and this is the cause which accelerates the freezing of boiled water. The water that has been boiled has lost the air naturally contained in it, which on ex-posure to the atmosphere it begins again to attract and absorb. During this process of absorption a motion is necessarily produced among its particles, slight certainly and imperceptible, yet probably sufficient to accelerate its congelation. In unboiled water this disturbance does not exist.
Indeed, water when kept perfectly still can be reduced several degrees below the freezing point without its becoming ice.

Marlborough House

Marlborough House is one of the numerous buildings of Sir Christopher Wren. It was built at a cost of £44, 000, the whole of which was defrayed by the duke. Here the great duchess lived till her death in 1744, waging an incessant warfare upon the society of her time. Here, too, she received a deputation of the lord mayor and sheriffs of London while still in bed, an incident which was satirized by Gay Acquainted with the world and quite welbred.

In the earlier years of the nineteenth century Marlborough House was rented by Leopold, king of the Belgians.
It was afterward bestowed by the crown upon Queen Adelaide, the dowager of William IV.—London Chronicle.

WOMEN OF NOTE.

Mrs. T. P. O'Connor's visit to this country is in the interest of Irish industries.

Mrs. Taft's name heads the roll of honorary members of the Daughters of Ohio. She was elected at a recent meeting of the society which was held

Miss Catharine Regina Seabury, for some years the head of St. Agnes'
school at Albany, is spoken of as the successor of Miss Agnes Irwin as dean of Radcliffe college.

Queen Wilhelmina, who has recently become a convert to perfumes, prefers the soft, uncertain French odors, and she uses them in a French way. She scented each article of clothing strongly, but with a different odor.

Mrs. Ellen T. Richards, instructor in the department of chemistry at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, is to give a course of lectures at the University of California the coming summer on "Household Economics."

Mrs. Mary Nevins Bull, widow of Dr.
William T. Bull, has presented to the New York Academy of Medicine a bronze bust of her husband, which was
Dr. Bull's last gift to her before he died. She gives it to the academy in his son's name.

Little Miss Emily Boynton of Colorado, who is only thirteen years old,
has a record as a mountain climber.
She recently ascended Long's peak, commonly called the American Matterhorn, which is 14,271 feet high, scorning the aid of a guide, even at the dangerous points. The feat would be difficult for a man.

Countess von Boos Farrar, a niece of Archduke Franz, is giving her whole time to New York's sick and needy.
She has lately secured seventy-five acres at Spring Valley, N. Y., and will build there a home for children of criminals, not only to care for the wards, but to make a thorough test of the theory of inherited crime. Criminologists are said to be much inter-

WALL STREET WAYS.

Methods of a Brilliant Operator of
Many Years Ago.

One of the most brilliant operators of Wall street in the early sixties of the last century was Walter Wellman Morse, though he was by comparison with some of the gray haired market veterans only a mere boy, being just thirty years of age. The public confidence he enjoyed made it possible for him to realize profits in any stock.

Such was the influence his management would carry that after he had accumulated stock at his prices he could tell his daily callers that the stock was due to go up, and immediately there would be enough professional and public buying of the stock to send it up, thus enabling Morse to unload at a profit.

An example of Morse's popularity was illustrated in a scene accompanying the opening of subscriptions for stock in a coal mining company organized by him. The day the subscription book was opened people flocked to the office and fought with each other in their efforts to enter and get their names recorded. One man who had subscribed for a large amount of this stock, after getting away from the crowd, came back and, walking up to Mr. Morse, said, "I say, Mr. Morse, was that gold or coal stock I subscribed for?"—Moody's Magazine.

Only a Question of Possibility.

Among the customers of a tea store opened in the northwest part of the city the other night was a man who, after buying a pound of coffee, handed a counterfeit half dollar to the shopkeeper.

"This money is counterfeit; I'm sorry, sir," said the shopkeeper.

"Yes, I know it," replied the customer, grinning. "Got it here one day last week, and I've been saving it for you." Then, noting the smile upon the shopkeeper's face, the customer said, evidently offended, "Perhaps you don't my word?"
"Oh, not at all, sir; not at all. I couldn't doubt the word of so truthful a man. I was simply smiling because I wondered how it was possible for you to have got the money here. This place was opened only night before last."

Thereupon the customer departed hastily after producing a good coin and slipping the counterfeit into his

Lancashire Humor.

There was a Lancashire collier who went out on Sunday with his wheel-barrow because, as he said, "I've lost my dog, an' a felly looks sich a foo' goin' n' walkin' bi' himself."

Then there was the workmen's club committee which wanted to indorse the accounts "audited and found correct and tuppence over" and the customer who, on being told that the price of candles had gone up owing to the war, asked whether they were
"feightin' bi candle lect."

Also one recalls the laggard Lancashire lover who, when asked for a kiss, said he was "goin' to do it in

NOT ANNOYED.

Mr. Reader Harris, K. C., was once offered a brief marked 50 guineas on behalf of a railway company that wished to obtain a refreshment license for a particular railway station. He returned the brief on conscientious grounds, but later on it was sent back to him with a fee of 100 guineas marked on it. This time he returned it with a note in which he explained that his refusal was due to a matter of principle. Subsequently he met one of the directors of the company and expressed a hope that he and his colleagues were not annoyed at his conduct.

"Not at all," said the director. "I'll tell you all about it. So-and-so, the big brewer, was sitting on the board for the first time at the meeting at which the solicitor reported that your brief marked 50 guineas had been returned. 'Who's this psalm singing humbug?' he asked. 'Mark the brief 100 guineas and I'll bet you anything you like he'll take it.' 'Oh, you will will you?' asked the chairman. You see, we all knew you, Harris. You took the brewer on at 5 to 1 in five pound notes. He booked the bets with every one of us, and he has paid up."

The Fun of It.
Mother—Did you enjoy your w. cream soda, Dickie?
Dickie—Yes, ma; there were seven other boys lookin' through the window at me.

Couldn't Forget It.

"Saturday night some miscreant juggled off a whole cord of my wood, and somehow I can't forget about it," declared Silas.

"Have you tried to forget it?" inquired his friend.
"Yes, Sunday morning I went to church, hoping I could get it off my mind, and before I had been there five minutes the choir started in singing 'The Lost Chord,' so I got out."—Judge.

Reckless Gambling.

"I'm afraid my husband is developing the gambling instinct," sobbed the bride.

"What's the matter, dear? Has he been playing poker?"
"No, but yesterday he offered to match pennies with Brother Frank to determine which one should pay the far fare."—Detroit Free Press.

Getting Down to Business.

Mistress (to new servant)—There are two things, Mary, about which I am very particular. They are truthfulness and obedience. Mary—Yes'm, and when you tell me to say you're not in when a person calls that you don't wish to see which is it to be, mum—truthfulness or obedience?

Making or Keeping Promises.

The difference between Mr. Taft's promise of tariff revision and Mr. Bryan's pledges in the same direction is that Mr. Taft if elected will be in position to redeem his pledge, while Mr. Bryan if elected would be powerless to accomplish anything with a Republican senate arrayed against his free trade plans.—Omaha Bee.

Authors Favor Suffrage.

It is very evident that suffrage is a favor among the best known authors of America, men and women, from the list of names on the national petition for woman suffrage, which includes Mark Twain, William Dean Howells, Sarah Orne Jewett, Frances Marion, Edith Wharton, Elizabeth Stuart Phelps Ward, Booth Tarkington, Julia Ward Howe, Charlotte Perkins Gilman, Alice Brown, General Charles D. Walcott, Mrs. Dorothy M. Draper, Florence Morse Foster, Helen Campbell, Ernest Horn, James Freeman Allen, Ernest Thompson Seton, William Phillips, Louise May Alcott, Mrs. Sessions Tappan, Mrs. Agnes C. Laut, Mrs. Lida A. Churchill, Mrs. Starkweather, Professor Edward Taylor, Anna Randall Diehl, Mrs. George Charles Edward, Mrs. John H. Howe, W. H. Allen, Robert Hunter and Jane Addams.

Another Boring Question.

"I say, pa, is a man from Poland called a Pole?"
"Yes, my son."

Insult Added.

Big Man (with a grouch)—Will you be so kind as to get off my feet? Little Man (with a bundle)—I'll try, sir. Is it much of a walk?—Cleveland Leader.

MISSED ONE POINT.

The Lady Told Him What More He Could Have Said.

"I am going to tell you the truth about yourself," he said.

"Go on," said the young and ambitious actress.

"I have in my time had rare opportunities to observe beautiful, graceful and talented women, and I violate no confidence in saying that you are the queen of them all. You unite in your lovely person that peculiar magnetism which lays audiences at your feet. Your genius, shining through all the deficiencies of stagecraft, enables you to triumph over every obstacle. So supreme are you that you have the right to rise above all conventionalities, to marry, to love, to discard when you please, and no one will dare to criticize. Your work will live. You are the very personification of the highest art. United with this your perfection of beauty gives you the just title to a lasting fame."

"Is all that true?" she asked softly.

"Absolutely. Would you have me say more? What more could I say?"

She sighed.

—Puck.

Disinterested.

Lord Monbodo, an eminent member of the Scotch judiciary and one of the clear cut figures in Roswell's immortal "Life of Johnson," was a great bear in his youth and in his later years brilliant and learned if whimsical.

He was a friend of the Garricks and one day was their guest at their villa at Hampton Court when Hannah More was also visiting there. They were walking together in the garden when his lordship astonished the fair and sprightly Hannah by a declaration of love and an offer of his heart and hand. Meeting with a positive refusal, he soon returned to the house and made a clean breast of it to Mrs. Garrick.

"I am very sorry for this refusal," he said in conclusion. "I should have liked so much to teach that nice girl Greek."

Our Languages.

What a lot of languages we talk even if we talk only English! I was assailed by a man across the lunch room table with a language about a cup tie final and confessed that it was quite unintelligible. Then another man talked about golf, which is an other language. And then the woman's language elbows these columns. "The Countess — wore a sea green cloth skirt with a bolero of the same color and a white maroon stole, and a black taffeta bow garnished her huge hat of burnt tagel straw." It is a fine example of women's slang. But to the man it means nothing—but expense.—London Outlook.

Hairs Upon Horses' Lips.

The fine hairs about the mouth of the horse are organs of touch of extreme delicacy. They serve to a certain extent the same purpose as our finger ends, the whiskers of the cat or the trunk of the elephant. Sensitiveness is due to specially developed endings of nerves in the skin, which are continually sending messages to the brain. The hairs of the horse first receive the stimulus, which is communicated to the end organs and so passes on to the brain. They come into play when the horse samples a new article of food. He first smells it and, having so far satisfied himself, touches it delicately with those sensitive hairs. The upper lip moves softly in quick sympathy and confirms the opinion suggested by the hairs. The tongue judges finally as to the fitness of the food. When the horse wishes to drink these hairs assure him that the water is free from foreign matter on the surface, for he drinks from the surface only. They detect the smallest particle of dirt and guide him to the purest place.

The Simple Diet.

There is a certain banker and broker doing business not a hundred miles from the bank, says a London weekly, whose health for some time has not been all that he could desire. Not long ago he was complaining to his brother, when the latter after a careful survey of his brother's countenance said:

"What you need, old man, is plain country food. Come to my place in the country and we'll soon set you up. This rich food is proving too much for you. Take breakfast, for instance. All I have is two cups of coffee, a bit of steak with a baked potato, some light muffins or a stack of buttered toast, together with a bit of water-cress or lettuce. What do you have?"

For a moment the city banker gazed in hearty admiration at his brother.

"A cup of hot water and two slices of dry toast," he replied soberly. "But, Jim, if you think a simple diet like yours will set me up," why, I'm perfectly willing to try it."

The Story of "Hard Hit."

"Mr. Orcaarlson, if I thought that by killing you I could paint a picture like yours I would stab you to the heart." Such was the remark made by Pellegrini, the famous caricaturist.

Candy-makers' Tricks.

An Atchison man went into a candy factory. He was surprised to see one of the candy-makers reach with his bare hand into a pot of boiling candy. He brought out a handful of the boiling stuff. He was testing its consistency. He first put his hand in a pail of water. After he had jerked out his hand he put it back in the water. The Atchison man tried the same thing and did it without getting burned.—Atchison Globe.

Is the Tuberculosis Crusade Losing Ground?

The recent report of the Penna. State Board of Health reveals the startling condition that despite all the efforts being made by advocates of fresh air and egg-and-milk-curing treatments, the number of new cases has not been noticeably decreased.

This report applies to Sanitarium treatment. It does not take into account the tubercular cases cured by Eckman's Alternative—when the disease was in an advanced as well as early state. The Sanitarium treatment has only benefited temporarily, while Eckman's Alternative has cured.

Write to any sanitarium and ask them to refer you to even five or ten cured cases—not those temporarily benefited, but people who had tuberculosis and are today in perfect health. At the same time write to the Eckman Laboratory, 6th & Market Sts., Phila., and ask them to refer you to cured cases. Priests, men and women who took Eckman's Alternative and are today well and strong without a trace of tuberculosis—pronounced so by physicians. Some of them took the Alternative 11 years ago when doctors said they would not live 11 weeks.

Could anything be fairer to yourself and those who love you and would do anything to restore you to health? If you are skeptical—investigate us, our medicine, our advertised statements. Write, if you will, to those who have sent in affidavits and testimonials telling how Eckman's Alternative cured them.

Eckman's Alternative is good for all Throat and Lung troubles, and is on sale in Charleroi by W. F. Hennings and other druggists. It can also be obtained at, or procured by, your local druggist. Ask for Booklet of Cured Cases or write or evidence to the Eckman Laboratory, Phila., Pa.

Are Warned to Watch Paralysis Symptoms

Health Officers of Fayette City and other places where infantile paralysis is prevalent are being urged to keep in close touch with the government officials at Washington, D. C., where Surgeon General Walter Wyman is conducting an official inquiry. Over 500 cases of the disease existed in the national capital and the authorities are alarmed because the most expert physicians, specialists, bacteriologists and chemists have made no progress in the attempt to trace its source.

Dr. George N. Ackera, specialist, who has been studying infantile paralysis for several years said: "The disease is rarely fatal, and in my opinion, it is only feebly contagious. A few years ago it was generally believed that the disease was confined to the spine. Investigation has demonstrated that it also goes to the brain."

NO VENEERED STRUCTURES

Tomorrow when council meets it is supposed that the ordinance committee will have an important report to make concerning the erection within the fire limits of brick veneered structures. At the last council meeting requests were made by various property holders in Charleroi to brick veneer wooden structures, and the matter was referred to the ordinance committee to report at an adjourned meeting called for Friday night.

Just what the ordinance committee will have to report is a question but if ordinances passed some years back are rightly construed the request to erect brick veneered structures in the fire limits may be refused. The ordinance requires that the sidewalls of all new structures erected within the fire limits be of stone, brick or other incombustible material. The fire limits cover territory between Third and Seventh streets west from the railroad as far as Cherry alley.

SOAP MIGHT WEAR OUT THE SIDEWALKS

Cleaning the sidewalks with soap and water has been officially declared a violation of the borough laws at Fayette City and a lively session of the borough council Tuesday night ended with David Pearce, who had been fined for throwing water in the street, declaring that he would appeal the case because the council sustained the burgess who had fined Pearce.

Pearce is a wealthy citizen. Health officers accused him of throwing soap suds on the sidewalk and although Pearce denied that there was soap in the water, he was fined $5. Many citizens interested in this new angle of the clean city day proposition talked in Pearce's behalf at the council meeting.

BUSINESS MEN WILL ARRANGE FOR OUTING

The regular meeting of the Business Men's association will be held tonight at the association rooms in the Kirk and Clark building, when important business is to be transacted. Reports will be made by committees in charge of the arrangements for the Business Men's outing to be held at Eldora Park on August 17.

Boy Falls From Top of Big Tree

Young Needemauer and some other boys were racing to see who could get up an apple tree the quickest. Needemauer was the first and climbed to the topmost branches. Looking down at the other boys he started to laugh at them for being so slow when his foot slipped and he came tumbling down, alighting on his head. He is suffering from concussion of the brain. Dr. J. G. Warner was called.

TEACHERS WILL BE AFFECTED BY SCHOOL CODE

FIVE YEARS AS A LIMIT

The new proposed school code which will be placed before the legislature next January will not only affect the school children and directors, but the teachers also come in the scope of the commission's work.

Under the new ruling all teachers who have taught five years on provisional certificates will be required to continue their work. At the present time there are teachers in Washington county who have taught for the past 28 years, each year renewing their eligibility by taking the county superintendent's provisional examination.

Five years is the limit placed upon provisional certificates after which two years is the limit on professional credentials instead of three as is the present rule. Permanent examinations must be passed after teaching seven years in the public schools of Pennsylvania, according to the provisions of the new code, or the teacher will not be allowed to hold an instructor's position.

FAMILIES REUNE AT ELDORA PARK

Sixty five members of the Wickerham, Grant and Sampson families were present at the fourth annual joint family reunion of the three clans at Eldora park yesterday. The dinner was served at one large table. Addresses were made by the Rev. J. T. Hackett, of Charleroi and Captain James B. Gibson of Monongahela.

Monongahela Board Approves Bond Issue

The Monongahela school board at a meeting last night passed a resolution authorizing the issuance of $15,000 worth of bonds, which were voted for at the June election. Bids from prospective purchasers will be received up until August 6th, at which time the board will meet to receive tenders.

BOROUGH MUST FIND PLACES FOR TEN ADDITIONAL PLUGS

According to the contract signed last fall with the Charleroi Water company the borough agreed to place ten additional fire plugs in the borough and the fire water and light committee of council, consisting of Councilmen W. K. Gault, Dr. A. O. Davis and Oscar Linn it is understood will present a report to council on the matter tomorrow night recommending places where the fire plugs are needed. The committee with Fire Chief J. W. Fleming and Councilman C. O. Frye made a tour of the borough yesterday in the auto patrol wagon and made investigations.

The committee will in all probability make recommendations of at least seven places where plugs are most needed, and three locations will have to be decided upon later.

Locations where better fire accommodations are needed in Charleroi are at the corner of Seventh street and Fallowfield avenue, Third street and Fallowfield avenue, Chest avenue and Third street, Tandy avenue and Seventh street, Prospect avenue and Ninth street, and Shady avenue and Eleventh street. It is thought that the committee will make recommendations of plugs to be set at these places, or in the nearby territory. Other places where plugs could well be located are First street and Fallowfield avenue, Blythe Alley and Eighth street and Crest alley and Twelfth street.

WOMAN THE PRESIDENT TO PURCHASE COAL TRACT

Miss Etta M. Work principal of the Second street school, has prepared for the Mail an article concerning her recent trip to Boston where she attended the convention of the National Educational association. Miss Work during her absence visited many points of interest in and about Boston, including the numerous historical points where battles of the Revolution were fought. She also viewed the homes of noted literary men who are now dead, and visited the scenes which have been much written about by Longfellow and others of New England nativity. Not only in Boston and vicinity did Miss Work visit, but also in New York and Philadelphia in order that upon her return here she could add to the general interest of the studies of history and geography pursued in the schools by talks on her personal recollections of experiences met with and sights seen during the trip. The description of the National Educational Association convention follows, as prepared by Miss Work:

The National Educational association was in session during July 8. The opening exercises were appropriate on commemorating Independence day. This session was held in the great stadium of Harvard University, Cambridge, which seats 30,000 persons and which was well filled. The Governor of Massachusetts and the Mayor of Boston extended welcome to the vast multitude. Supt Blair of Illinois responded to this greeting. Governor Kitchen of North Carolina brought his message from the southland. David Starr Jordan represented the far west and contributed many good ideas worthy of future thought, while a fitting climax was the address by President Taft. At night the display of fireworks from the Boston Common was witnessed by thousands in the near vicinity and along the Charles river.

The main sessions of the association were held in the Stadium of Tremont Temple. Fourteen departments of the association held daily meetings in different buildings centrally located. Among the most important subjects under discussion at the meeting during the week were training for vocation, moral and physical training in the public schools, and the education of crippled and defective children. The culminating point in the convention was reached when Mrs. Ella Plagg Young superintendent of the public schools of Chicago was elected president of the association. When we take into consideration that fifty years ago a woman was not allowed to read her own article on education before the National Educational convention the election of Mrs. Young was a distinct triumph for the women—a victory "for right" as she terms it. Never before in the annals of the educational body had the regular slate of a nominating committee been rejected and a candidate elected.

James Henry and John Mildebrandt are completing the optioning for Samuel Kent of Coal Centre of a tract of coal underlying about 1,000 acres, located on the west side of the Monongahela river and extending from a point just opposite the pump station at Morgantown to a point opposite Little Falls in West Virginia. The coal includes all veins under the Pittsburgh seam and the property is being optioned at $35 an acre. William Brand is now engaged in looking up the titles and having a survey made of the property.

Mr. Kent who intends purchasing the plot already owns a tract of 1,200 acres near Little Falls, so the two tracts will adjoin.

When a small cyclone passed over the farm of William McConnell near Independence yesterday it lifted a large hay stack from the farm and with the rails which had been used to anchor the top of the stack carried it into the air to the height of 200 feet or more and then transported to the adjoining farm nearly a quarter of a mile away. A large sycamore tree was in the path of the wind and it was twisted about like a weed. Part of the hay from the stack was picked up and whirled into the air, part of it going almost beyond the vision of the eye. A small part of the stack containing the rails was carried about 50 feet into the air and dropped about 200 feet away. The balance of the hay went whirling upwards and onward.

The Blue and the Scarlet association composed of members of the Masonic fraternity of Monessen and Charleroi, has issued invitations for a summer dance to be given at Eldora park on next Wednesday evening, August 10. Quite a number of invitations have been received by Charleroi fraters.

Auto Patrol Put to Work

The new automobile patrol wagon recently purchased from Pittsburg was put to work yesterday and the first prisoner to get a ride in it was M. Lee who was charged with drunkenness. Chief of Police C. W. Albright was the chauffeur. At a hearing last night Lee was discharged by Recorder Richard.

It is expected that within a short time work will be begun on the construction of a place to keep the machine. Chief Albright this morning stated that arrangements would be made for storing the wagon at the rear of the lockup.

CHARLEROI MAN TO HAVE CHARGE OF MUSICAL PART

The annual outing of the Welsh people of Allegheny county at Kennywood park Saturday which will be attended by Welsh people from the principal towns and cities of Western Pennsylvania and Ohio, is being much looked forward to by the race in this county. A program of sports, and a musical program has been arranged. Prof. I. T. Daniel of Charleroi to be in charge of the latter. Prof. Daniel will have charge of a mass chorus of 800 voices, and excellent renditions of favorite national anthems and Welsh hymns are assured. Madame Dora Davies-Williams, the famed Welsh soprano will contribute two numbers to the program. Mrs. Daniel the well known soprano of Charleroi, as well as a number of Pittsburg vocalists will be heard in popular Welsh airs.

The exercises will conclude with a challenge solo competition open to all comers. As each contest it is permitted to sing his favorite song, a desired variety is added to the program. A magnificent trophy will be awarded to the winner.

Noted Sportsman to Visit Brownsville

Brownsville is to have one of the greatest treats of the sporting world next Monday afternoon, when C. G. Spencer, champion target shooter of the world, will give an exhibition at the local taps. The followers of the sport in the surrounding towns are invited to attend. Charles G. Spencer of St. Louis, Mo., the present holder of the World's Championship at targets may be termed "the man who came back." Spencer, as a youth, under the guidance of his father, who was a noted rifle shot, took up the target shooting game and soon sprang into prominence.

R. C. Mountsier, E. F. Krahmer, J. E. Masters and F. W. Jones went to Pittsburg today in the former's Jackson automobile to witness the aviation meet.

CITIZENS ARE ANGRY

Carroll Township Tax-payers After School Board

A fight is on between a number of the citizens of Carroll township who are mostly residents of West Monongahela and the school board there regarding school matters. A new building is needed and the school board proposes to sell a portion of the ground partly occupied by the present buildings, and purchase property elsewhere or a new structure. It seems this idea is anything but satisfactory to the citizens.

At a meeting held Tuesday night the citizens determined that if the board should make any move to sell the present site they would at once appeal to the Washington county courts for such action as would prevent the consummation of any such effort on the part of the school board. A committee of five citizens, composed of John Roadman, Edward Baker, Hugo Zeitz, Wm. Graham and James Stacher has wanted to attend all meetings of the school board and to advise the organization as to all actions taken by the directors. The committee of five was authorized to secure an attorney, if one was needed, and were assured that all the money necessary would be raised to take care of any court proceedings it might be deemed advisable to take.

COUNTY GROWING IN IMPORTANCE

That Washington county is growing in importance is evidenced by the fact that it requires nearly $1,500 a day to pay its running expenses says the Washington Observer. The total disbursements from January 1, 1910 to August 2, inclusive were $809,097.04 or an average of nearly $45,000 a month.

July was a big month, the expenditures being nearly $52,000. This was due principally to bridge and road improvements.

In spite of the large drains on the county treasury there is a balance of $177,179.16 on hand with 22 tax collecting districts to hear from.

ELDORA IS CHOSEN FOR ANNUAL PICNIC

The Sunday school board of the Methodist Episcopal church at a meeting last night decided to hold the annual picnic and outing of the school at Eldora Park on Friday, August 12. The park management is providing tickets to the various amusements for the children, and will arrange the transportation.

The Tariff Commission

sion may accomplish much good work,
especially if it so conducts itself as to gain the confidence of the country.
says the Connellsville Courier.

While it is true, as has been stated,
with the lawmakers and the latter cannot afford to defy public sentiment.

the preparation of their Tariff bills,
the fact has not been generally
sumed that the bills have been drawn
by politicians rather than by pub-
the many.

been the case; and it may be added,

The Best Country

are by nature "agin" existing conditions and those who hope to step into
world, says the New Castle Herald.
ing a tithe of the liberty we possess.

that further tax is to be levied there.
It will be a tax upon all amusements.
the tax on amusements is a new one.
have so long overlooked it, since in
are levied on for the number of doors and windows in a dwelling.

demanded for all theatrical performances, recitals, concerts, circuses,
with a vengeance.

this country in the same way.
ing to their business or occupation,
prevent this to a great extent.

shoe himself and takes an assistant,
of the capitalist class.

his own personality and acts.

nation.

of the case consumes too much tissue.

bridge matter will be to find out just
the affair.

If some men were punished accord-
be hung on the spot.

Dr. Crippen's trouble might be construed in some way to resemble Harry Thaws. The resemblance is that

That Pesky Fly

battle cry;

to be taken home.

the eyes.

liars.

The summer season is the only time

we are well satisfied now.

busy making duplicates of the triennial assessment for the guidance of
duties by September 1.

Esther Heckle, 11 years old, of
Wylie avenue, at Pittsburg yesterday.
Prompt treatment was extended and
serious effects.

CATHOLICS WIN AND ARE GAME BEHIND LEADERS

Smother First Presbyterians in Last Night's

happened unto the baseball lot last night in his continued search for an
will too many honest clouters. The Catholics beat the First Presbyterians 11 to 0 and established themselves just one game behind the Episcopalians, leading for first place.

The beginning of the catastrophe
on the same number of real bingles.
In the sixth inning a base on balls,

Beaver Country Brave Ones Cap-

country this week, and high scared some of the female residents to death.
acts rational enough.

The New Castle "News" says:
"Although it is a little early to
can be said that the men who are
just crystallized in the Keystone party,
Democrats will take off their coats,
inee.

trict can avoid it.

VETERANS PLAN TO BE PRESENT AT DEDICATION

sylvania regiment which was in most
completed plans for attending the
ment on the historic battlefield at noon on Tuesday, September 27, 1910.

Western Pennsylvania, two of the
ton county. This well known com-
head of the command fell in the thickest of the fight.

part in the battle of Gettysburg and
plication to the Gettysburg Battlefield

by the appearance of what they
of it when he snapped at Peter Lee,
dog at the time was with a little boy,
and was not frothing at the mouth.
The report spread that a mad dog was
living on Washington avenue.

not such as to indicate that.

ry VIII. of the fleet which avenged
French raids by burning French ships
still survives.

Conversant Topic.

"I wonder what commanded Mr. Blig-
"The fact," replied Miss Cayenne,

Language of Switzerland.

It is a curious fact that the people
abound in a manner be without a lan-
in those languages are the principal tongue. In Switzerland documents and
and German languages. In the national assembly members deliver their speeches in either French or German,
for nearly all members understand both tongues. The decrees and proclamations of the president are translated
to the press in both languages.—New York Press.

Her Fault.

department at a school in West Philadelphia was talking the other day
about her work and her pupils.

"They are dear youngsters," she said,
"but they sometimes make curious re-
casion to reproach a little boy who isn't
trouble and making a disturbance.
"One day he had been more than
tired. Instead of scolding or punishing him I began in rather an exasperated tone to talk to him.

going to meet you in heaven."
"He looked up with the most shocked face. 'Why, teacher,' he said, 'isn't

Going Round the World.

met a little earlier every morning.
These little differences added together
will amount to twenty-four hours.
of food and imbibed an extra day's allowance of grog.

ward the sun is overtaken a little each
and watches are found to be too fast.
has fallen in arrears. The eastern
bound ship, then, has gained a day,
one. This strange fact, clearly work-
port and returned together.—Philadelphia Record.

Modern Gold Mining.

surface gold was mined—that is, free
gold, deposited in the beds of streams,
in sands and in the crevices of rocks.
world's output. Formerly the alluvial
was first employed in California. By
and water flow. In 1859 dredges or
excavators were first used in Australia.
Today stream and electric dredges produce a considerable portion of the world's output.—Byron W. Holt in Everybody's.

Why Boiled Water Freezes Easily.

freeze until it has parted with its heat,
but water that has been boiled will,
than water which has not been boiled.
has been boiled has lost the air natu-
necessarily produced among its particles, slight certainly and imperceptible, yet probably sufficient to accelerate its congelation. In unboiled water this disturbance does not exist.
can be reduced several degrees below
ing ice.

Marlborough House.

numerous buildings of Sir Christopher Wren. It was built at a cost of $44, 000, the whole of which was defrayed
lived till her death in 1744, waiting at
incident which was satirized by Gay Acquainted with the world and quite well bred.

Drusa receives her visitants in bed.

century Marlborough House was rendered by Leopold, king of the Belgians.
It was afterward bestowed by the
crown upon Queen Adelaide, the dowager of William IV.—London Chronicle.

WOMEN OF NOTE.

Mrs. T. P. O'Connor's visit to this country is in the interest of Irish industries.

Mrs. Taft's name heads the roll of honorary members of the Daughters of Ohio. She was elected at a recent
in New York.

Miss Catharine Regina Seabury, for
of Radcliffe college.

the soft, uncertain French odors, and
she uses them in a French way. She scents each article of clothing strongly,
but with a different odor.

Mrs. Ellen B. Richards, instructor in
Massachusetts Institute of Technology,
is to give a course of lectures at the
summer on "Household Economics."

Mrs. Mary Nevins Bull, widow of Dr.
bronze bust of her husband, which was
Dr. Bull's last gift to her before he
his name.

Little Miss Emily Boynton of Colorado, who is only thirteen years old,
has a record as a mountain climber.
She recently ascended Loog's peak,
horn, which is 14,271 feet high, scorn-
ing the aid of a guide, even at the dan-
cult for a man.

Countess von Boos Farrar, a niece of Archdeacon Farrar, is giving her whole time to New York's sick and needy.
She has lately secured seventy-five
waifs, but to make a thorough test of the theory of inherited crime. Criminologists are said to be much inter-

WALL STREET WAYS.

Many Years Ago.

of Wall street in the early sixties of
the last century was Walter Wellman Morse, though he was by comparison
thirty years of age. The public confidence he enjoyed made it possible for him to realize profits in any "stock."

Such was the influence his endorse-
ately there would be enough profes-
unload at a profit.

was illustrated in a scene accompan-
stock in a coal mining company or-
stock, after getting away from the crowd, came back and, walking up to Mr. Morse, said, "I say, Mr. Morse, was that gold or coal stock I subscribed for?"—Moody's Magazine.

Only a Question of Possibility.

city the other night was a man who,
after buying a pound of coffee, handed
keeper.

"This money is counterfeit; I'm sorry,
sir," said the shopkeeper.
"Yes; I know it," replied the customer, grinning. "Got it here one day
doubt my word?"

last."

and slipping the counterfeit into his

Lancashire Humor.

There was a Lancashire collier who
went out on Sunday with his wheel-
goin' a-walkin' bi hisself."

Then there was the workmen's
"feibtr'n' bi candle leet."

Also one recalls the laggard Lan-
kiss, said he was "goin' to do it in a bit," and the old ladies who praised a certain Darwin clergyman as "a grand burier," and of the orator who translated "Dien et mon drolt" into "Er'll be to him what er'll thinks!"—Lancashire Life and Character, by Frank Ormerod.

NOT ANNOYED.

Mr. Reader Harris, K. C., was once offered a brief marked 50 guineas on behalf of a railway company that wished to obtain a refreshment license for a particular railway station. He returned the brief on conscientious grounds, but later on it was sent back to him with a fee of 100 guineas marked on it. This time he returned it with a note in which he explained that his refusal was due to a matter of principle. Subsequently he met one of the directors of the company and expressed a hope that he and his colleagues were not annoyed at his conduct.

"Not at all," said the director. "I'll tell you all about it. So-and-so, the big brewer, was sitting on the board for the first time at the meeting at which the solicitor reported that your brief marked 50 guineas had been returned. 'Who's this psalm singing humbug?' he asked. 'Mark the brief, 100 guineas and I'll bet you anything you like he'll take it.' 'Oh, you will will you?' asked the chairman. You see, we all knew you, Harris. We took the brewer on at 5 to 1 in five pound notes. He booked the bets with every one of us, and he has paid up."

Mother—Did you enjoy your k. cream soda, Dickie?
Dickie—Yes, ma; there were seven other boys lookin' through the window at me.

What is not necessary is dear at a penny.—Cato.

Couldn't Forget It.

"Saturday night some miscreant lodged off a whole cord of my wood, and I somehow I can't forget about it," declared Silas.

"Have you tried to forget it?" inquired his friend.

"Yes. Sunday morning I went to church, hoping I could get it off my mind, and before I had been there five minutes the choir started in singing 'The Lost Chord,' so I got out."

Judge.

Reckless Gambling.

"I'm afraid my husband is developing the gambling instinct," sobbed the bride.

"No, but yesterday he offered to match pennies with Brother Frank to determine which one should pay the car fare."—Detroit Free Press.

Getting Down to Business.

Mistress (to new servant)—There are two things, Mary, about which I am very particular. They are truthfulness and obedience. Mary—Yes'm, and when you tell me to say you're not in when a person calls that you don't wish to see which is it to be, mum—truthfulness or obedience?

Making or Keeping Promises.

The difference between Mr. Taft's promise of tariff revision and Mr. Bryan's pledges in the same direction is that Mr. Taft if elected will be in position to redeem his pledge, while Mr. Bryan if elected would be powerless to accomplish anything with a Republican senate arrayed against his free trade plans.—Omaha Bee.

Authors Favor Suffrage.

It is very evident that suffrage is in favor among the best known authors of America, men and women, from the list of names on the national petition for woman suffrage, which includes Mark Twain, William Dean Howells, Sarah Orne Jewett, Frances Marion, Edith Wharton, Elizabeth Stuart Phelps Ward, Booth Tarkington, Julia Ward Howe, Charlotte Perkins Gilman, Alice Brown, General Charles D. Walcott, Charles D. Walcott, Dorothy L. Sayers, Edith Dugan, Florence Morse Foster, Helen Campbell, Ernest Horn, Thomas A. Aldrich, James Lane Allen, John G. Saxe, Ernest Thompson Seton, Grace Gallatin Thompson, John David Graham Phillips, Louise May Alcott, Edith Sessions Tupper, and many others. Also, Agnes C. Laut, Mary S. E. Latta, A. Churchill, and many others. The list is long, and it is a good one. It shows that the authors of America are in favor of woman suffrage.

Another Boring Question.

"Yes, my son."

Insult Added.

Big Man (with a grouch)—Will you be so kind as to get off my feet? Little Man (with a bundle)—I'll try, sir. It is much of a walk.—Cleveland Leader.

MISSING ONE POINT.

The Lady Told Him What More He Could Have Said.

"I am going to tell you the truth about yourself," he said.

"Go on," said the young and ambitious actress.

"I have in my time had rare opportunities to observe beautiful, graceful and talented women, and I violate no confidence in saying that you are the queen of them all. You unite in your lovely person that peculiar magnetism which lays audiences at your feet. Your genius, shining through all the deficiencies of stagecraft, enables you to triumph over every obstacle. So supreme are you that you have the right to rise above all conventionalities, to marry, to love, to discard whom you please, and no one will dare to criticize. Your work will live. You are the very personification of the highest art. United with this your perfection of beauty gives you the just title to a lasting fame."

"Is all that true?" she asked softly.

"Absolutely. Would you have me say more? What more could I say?" She sighed.

Disinterested.

Lord Monbodo, an eminent member of the Scotch judiciary and one of the clear cut figures in Boswell's "Immortal Life of Johnson," was a great bear in his youth and in his later years brilliant and learned if whimsical. He was a friend of the Garricks and one day was their guest at their villa at Hampton Court when Hannah More was also visiting there. They were walking together in the garden when his lordship astonished the fair and sprightly Hannah by a declaration of love and an offer of his heart and hand. Meeting with a positive refusal, he soon returned to the house and made a clean breast of it to Mrs. Garrick.

Our Languages.

What a lot of languages we talk even if we talk only English! I was assailed by a man across the luncheon table with a language about a cup the final and confessed that it was quite unintelligible. Then another man talked about golf, which is an other language. And then the woman's language elbows these columns. "The Countess — wore a sea green cloth skirt with a bolero of the same color and a white marabou stole, and a black taffeta bow garnished her huge hat of purplé tagel straw." It is a fine example of women's slang. But to the man it means nothing—but expense.—London Outlook.

Hairs Upon Horros' Lips.

The fine hairs about the mouth of the horse are organs of touch of extreme delicacy. They serve to a certain extent the same purpose as our finger ends, the whiskers of the cat or the trunk of the elephant. Sensitiveness is due to specially developed endings of nerves in the skin, which are continually sending messages to the brain. The lip hairs of the horse first receive the stimulus, which is communicated to the end organs and so passes on to the brain. They come into play when the horse samples a new article of food. He first smells it and, having so far satisfied himself, touches it delicately with those sensitive hairs. The upper lip moves softly in quick sympathy and confirms the opinion suggested by the hairs. The tongue judges finally as to the fitness of the food. When the horse wishes to drink these hairs assure him that the water is free from foreign matter on the surface, for he drinks from the surface only. They detect the smallest particle of dirt and guide him to the purest place.

The Simple Diet.

There is a certain banker and broker doing business not a hundred miles from the bank, says a London weekly, whose health for some time has not been all that he could desire. Not long ago he was complaining to his brother, when the latter after a careful survey of his brother's countenance said:

"What you need, old man, is plain country food. Come to my place in the country and we'll soon set you up. This rich food is proving too much for you. Take breakfast, for instance. All I have is two cups of coffee, a bit of steak with a baked potato, some light muffs or a stack of buttered toast, together with a bit of water-cress or lettuce. What do you have?"

For a moment the city banker gazed in beary admiration at his brother.

"A cup of tea and water and two slices of dry toast," he replied soberly. "But, Jim, if you think a simple diet like yours will 'set me up,' why, I'm perfectly willing to try it."

The Story of "Hard Hit."

"Mr. Orchardson, if I thought that by killing you I could paint a picture like yours I would stab you to the heart." Such was the remark made by Pellegrini, the famous caricaturist.

Candy-makers' Tricks.

An Atchison man went into a candy factory. He was surprised to see one of the candy-makers reach with his bare hand into a pot of boiling candy. He brought out a handful of the boiling fluid. He was testing its consistency. He first put his hand in a pail of water. After he had jerked out his hand he put it back in the water. The Atchison man tried the same thing and did it without getting burned.—Atchison Globe.

is the Tuberculosis Crusade Losing Ground?

The recent report of the Penna. State Board of health reveals the startling condition that despite all the efforts being made by advocates of fresh air and egg-and-milk-purging treatments, the number of new cases has not been noticeably decreased. This report applies to Sanitarium treatment. It does not take into account the tubercular cases cured by Eckman's Alternative—when the disease was in an advanced as well as early state. The Sanitarium treatment has only benefited temporarily, while Eckman's Alternative has cured.

Write to any sanitarium and ask them to refer you to even five or ten cured cases—not those temporarily benefited, but people who had tuberculosis and are today in perfect health. At the same time write to the Eckman Laboratory, 6th & Market Sts., Phila., and ask them to refer you to Clergymen, Priests, men and women who took Eckman's Alternative and are today well and strong without a trace of tuberculosis—pronounced so by physicians. Some of them took the Alternative 11 years ago when doctors said they would not live 11 weeks.

Could anything be fairer to yourself and those who love you and would do anything to restore you to health? If you are skeptical—investigate us, our medicine, our advertised statements. If you will, to those who have sent in affidavits and testimonials telling how Eckman's Alternative cured them.

Eckman's Alternative is good for all Throat and Lung troubles, and is on sale in Charleroi at W. F. Hennings and other druggists. It can also be obtained at, or procured by, your local druggist. Ask for Booklet of Cured Cases or write for evidence to the Eckman Laboratory, Phila., Pa.
